BULLETIN BOARD IDEAS

KINDNESS

Be the I in KIND

- Design option 1: Large letters "K _ N D" with a blank space where kids can stand in to complete the word "KIND."
- Design option 2: Large letters "K _ N D", with an outline for 'I' - kids can write in ways to be kind in the letter 'I' to fill it out.
- Message: Everyone plays a role in kindness.

We're All Tied Together by Kindness

- Design: Yarn or string connecting people, hearts, or places on a map. Students write kind actions on tags and connect them to the central string.
- Message: Community & interconnectedness.

CLASSROOM CLIMB

"Kindness Gets Us to the Top"

- Design: A large paper mountain. Students create colorful paper handprints with a kind act they've done or plan to do. The handprints form the path up the mountain or are placed like stepping stones.
- Message: True climbers don't just reach the summit—they help others get there too.

Base Camp: Generosity

- Design: several paper tents arranged at Base Camp, with a large mountain behind. Each tent represents a group of students within the class
- Student Groups work together to fill their tent with generous actions either written on the bulletin board directly, or on paper that is attached after.
- Message: All great climbs start with a strong foundation—and generosity is the base for kindness, courage, and teamwork

BULLETIN BOARD IDEAS

GENEROSITY

"Shine Bright with Generosity"

- Design: Christmas lights strung across the board, each bulb labeled with generous acts. Students "light up" the board by adding bulbs when they perform or witness acts of giving.
- Title Variations: "Be the Light This Season," "Generosity Lights the Way."

"12 Days of Generosity" Countdown

- Each day, reveal a new act of kindness/challenge (e.g., "Hold the door for someone today" or "Write a thank-you note").
