Leader of The Salvation Army in Canada Ringing the Bells at a Kettle in Edmonton

Edmonton, AB – December 17, 2018 – On Tuesday, December 17, the Territorial Commander of The Salvation Army for the Canada and Bermuda Territory, Commissioner Susan McMillan, is stopping by an Edmonton Kettle to help ring the bells for the annual campaign. The Salvation Army Edmonton Temple Band will also be playing some carols at the Kettle.

As 2018 is the 125th year of The Salvation Army in Edmonton, Commissioner McMillan is stopping by on her tour of Western Canada to volunteer at a Kettle to raise awareness of the importance of the annual campaign.

The Christmas Kettle Campaign is in its 128th year worldwide, and is The Salvation Army's largest fundraiser. Kettle donations stay local to ensure Salvation Army programs and services are available year-round. In Edmonton, Kettle donations support food bank services, school supplies, soup kitchens, school meal programs, and more.

Where: Kingsway Garden Mall, Kettle located by Aritzia (enter at food court entrance)
When: Tuesday, December 17, 2018
Time: 12 – 1 p.m.
What: Photo and interview opportunities with Commissioner Susan McMillan. An ensemble from The Salvation Army Edmonton Temple brass band will also be on hand to play.

Major McMillan will be available for interviews and photo opportunities between 12 – 1 p.m.
